STATE LAW ATTACKED

Representative of Carriers Says,
If State Will Not Act, Interstate Commission Must

Opposition to an increase of 31 per cent in state freight rates, as asked by railroads, was voiced today at opening of hearing before the state railroad commission on the carriers' petition for increase in both freight and passenger rates within state commensurate with increases granted by Interstate Commerce commission. The hearing is being held in the state chamber of the state capital.

"Shippers hold that a thirty-five per cent increase in interstate freight rates, or any increase State Commission finds justified, should be based upon schedules as contained in state law of 1919, and not upon present rates," said Richard E. Wenzel, of Grand Forks, secretary of employers' association of North Dakota, in an interview at the opening of the hearing.

Railroad rates were increased during the war twenty-five per cent by the government, and if a thirty-five per cent increase is added to that North Dakota freight rates will be fully 40 per cent higher than rates in Minnesota, and higher than in South Dakota, Wenzel declared. He added that shippers do not oppose reasonable advance in rates for carriers.

Few Shippers Represented
Shippers were represented at the hearing by Wenzel, R. M. Stanton, secretary of Grand Forks commerce organization, and W. J. Dundeen, C. D. See, S. Morgan and E. A. Shirley, of Minot.

C. F. Dupuis, of the state commission, presided. Commissioners Aandahl and Siljanen being absent. Fred Bremner, director of utilities of commission, and V. E. Smart, traffic expert, sat with Mr. Dupuis.

The railroad's case was presented by H. W. Scandrett, assistant general solicitor of the Great Northern. St. Paul, took up the case with introduction of testimony, and A. H. Lessner, general attorney for the Soo lines.

Says Act Void
Mr. Scandrett told the commission that the state law fixing maximum freight rates is void, having been nullified by act of Congress turning roads back to the carriers, which provided that level of rates then obtaining should be level upon which legislature and commissions should act in future.

He also declared railroads would show present rates in North Dakota are confiscatory, and that the same increase as granted in interstate rates is necessary in rates within North Dakota.

"We will offer testimony which we are satisfied will demonstrate that the rates not only are unreasonable and unjust but are confiscatory," he said.

National Act Provisions
After stating the provisions of the Esch-Cummins transportation act, which he said provided that there is a conflict between Interstate Commerce commission and state commissions, and the state commissions shall fail to fix rates to yield a return contemplated under the act the power to fix rates within the state shall go to the Interstate Commerce commission. Mr. Scandrett said: "We would much rather have the commission act for the matter of fixing rates within the state go back to the Interstate Commerce commission."

Can Make Adjustments
He also told the commission that there is nothing in Esch-Cummins act to prohibit the commission from entering local complaints and making adjustments of rates within the state so long as the adjustments do not interfere with the general adjustment of rates.

A. H. Hoeselander, chief engineer of the Great Northern, was first witness placed on stand by carriers, who expect to show by testimony and by testimony taken by commerce commission that the state rates are confiscatory.

BEST YEARS ARE AHEAD

Early Hopes of Crop Fulfilled,
New Methods Will Mean
Steady Growth for Slope

Confidence of business men in the immediate business future of the entire Missouri slope has grown from the buoyant hope in spring for a good crop to the certain realization that the vast fields of rich North Dakota prairie land will yield abundantly.

What seemed in the eyes of the less courageous to be an almost insurmountable obstacle of financing the huge crop and the marketing of it has dissipated with the results at hand of the foresight and teamwork of bankers, shippers, farmers and other citizens.

Business conditions already reflect the optimistic spirit of the situation. With the summer sliding by, business men are preparing to realize upon the vast opportunities offered in restocking a veritable empire which has passed from lean years into a prosperous state.

New Progress Seen

Never again will there be such a situation created as has existed during the years in which drought has sapped the resources of the state so much as in the last four years. With diversified farming, the increase in livestock raising and dairying, intensified by the failures of one-crop agriculture, farmers of the slope country declare that the next four years will see the greatest advancement in the history of farming in the state. Through diversification steeper and more profitable returns will be possible.

Car Gloom Lifts

Predictions of a terrific slump in the wheat market by some of the pessimistic in the early spring because of the reports of favorable conditions over the entire country and prediction of prices beyond the wildest dreams of pioneer farmers both apparent, has been proven false. Instead there will be a world shortage of food stuffs which will cause a strong market throughout the year, though it will not bring famine prices, financial men tell us.

An encouraging dispatch from Washington relative to the car situation says: "The Interstate Commerce commission will see to it that more cars are hurried to the northwest as a result of hearing spokesmen from that region. It expects the railroad car service board to keep after the eastern and southern railroads until the northwest gets 100 per cent car ownership, which is promised for about September 1."

Steady Liquidation

With thirty days the crop will be moving to market, the speed of the liquidation depends upon car service and upon labor. Labor will not hinder it, in the opinion of officials in touch with the situation. Washington reports indicate that the car service will be better than had been anticipated.

Liquidation will begin immediately after the grain is harvested by farmers, and from that time on through the winter there will be a steady bettering of financial conditions, it is predicted.

SENATORIAL QUESTION

Anti-Townley G. O. P. Meeting
Called and Nelson Expresses Opinion

Upon learning of the call of the anti-Townley Republican central committee in meeting to endorse a candidate for United States senator, Theo. G. Nelson, secretary of the Independent Voters' association, today sent the following telegram to Treadwell Twichell:

"Have just learned that you have called central committee meeting to endorse a candidate for senator. Undoubtedly the regular Republicans have a right to comply with the wishes of the national committee in the matter of the senatorship, but the welfare of our state now requires the strictest separation of state and national issues and I trust the committee will recognize this fact in its deliberations."

Republican and Democratic leaders from McLean, Kidder, Burleigh, Logan, Emmons, and McIntosh counties are meeting here this afternoon at the call of the Anti-Townley joint committee to adopt plans for the conduct of the campaign this fall. Chairman of the Democratic state committee and Theodore G. Nelson, executive secretary of the Independent Voters association, will address the meeting.

Candidates Urge Suffrage
The following telegram was sent to the Governors, the presidents of the senate, and the speakers of the house, of the states of North Carolina and Tennessee, this morning. It was signed by the anti-league candidates for state offices in North Dakota. The telegram reads:

"We the independent candidates for state offices, representing the Republican and Democratic voters in our state that are opposed to the Socialist regime foisted upon Dakota at the instance of a group of ultra radicals assembled here from all parts of the nation, do hereby express our approval of the suffrage amendment to the federal constitution and respectfully urge upon you and the members of your legislature the importance of following the example of our state and promptly ratifying said amendment so the women of the nation may enjoy universal suffrage at the elections in November."

The Mandan Meeting

The Republican and Democratic forces fighting Townleyism in the Mandan group met there yesterday afternoon at the call of the joint committee and adopted the plans which already have been endorsed at six other group meetings. G. L. Solum, of Mandan, anti-Townley candidate for insurance commissioner, was elected chairman of the meeting and F. S. Hudson of Mandan was chosen secretary.

Grand and Sioux counties were eliminated from the Mandan group and will form a separate district together with Hettinger county with Chas. Simon of Hettinger as district supervisor. Attorney John P. Sullivan, of Mandan was elected.

To have charge of the preliminary organization work in the four counties in the Mandan group were elected: Morton, J. P. Sullivan, Mandan; Meyer, L. F. Temme, Bismarck; Oliver, F. J. V. Schertz, Center; Dunn, L. A. Winthorne, Weymouth. Grand county reported that the organization work already has progressed favorably with Dr. R. H. Leavitt in charge.

The Fargo resolution on national issues was adopted after some discussion. Sveinbjorn Johnson, chairman of the Democratic state committee, and Theo. G. Nelson, executive secretary of the Independent Voters association, addressed the meeting.

ROOSEVELT ON HIS CAMPAIGN TO THE COAST

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 12.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for Vice President, left today on a speaking trip that will take him through 15 states and as far west as the Pacific coast.

The schedule of speeches for the day opens with brief addresses at Kenosha and Racine, Wisconsin, closing with a night meeting at Milwaukee.

From Milwaukee Mr. Roosevelt will go to St. Paul and Minneapolis for two meetings there on Friday.

Minneapolis, Aug. 12.—A higher wheat market was responsible for an advance of 40 to 75 cents in the price of flour at the principal mills here today. One leading mill raised the price for family patent in 98-pound cotton sacks from $13.25 to $13.65, while another representative firm advanced their quotation to $14.75 from $14.00.

New Advances Made

Warsaw, Aug. 12.—One hundred thousand conveyances of various kinds, under guards, and driven by boys and elderly men are stealing through the Polish capital to the battle front.

Along the guard are many supply wagons, under guard of elderly civilians armed with rifles. All the able-bodied men are being released for other duties, and made available for the fight to save the city.

Women soldiers are dashing from place to place, acting as couriers.

French Officers Busy
The French military officers are showing extreme activity, rushing around the city in automobiles.

As the fighting front draws nearer Warsaw squads of citizens, wearing their ordinary civilian clothes and straw hats, but armed with rifles, are drilling in many parts of the city.

Boys in kindergarten, elderly men and well-to-do merchants are on the side lines watching the more usual types of fighters in the ranks.

Newspaper accounts of the preparations for defense say the spirit of the people is to defend Warsaw, repel the invader and not to count the cost in blood.

Prepare for Evacuation

The government, while it will not concede that a date has been set for the evacuation of the city is gradually moving away the more important state documents.

POLES OUTNUMBERED

Washington, Aug. 12.—Polish forces defending Warsaw are outnumbered two and a half to one, by the Bolshevik military forces, according to official statements received here today, estimating the Russian Soviet strength.

The Soviet forces on the Polish front number 360,000 men and the Polish forces are estimated at 140,000.

To guard around Warsaw is said to be 25 companies and it is estimated that 25 others are centered in other parts of Russia, as well as two cavalry bodies.

TAKE RAILWAY STATIONS

Johannesburg, Aug. 12. Reports received here say that important stations on the Transvaal railway from Johannesburg to the north were taken by the Soviet cavalry on Tuesday.

There have been no official dispatches indicating that the Soviet armies have taken Mowla, and most recent advices from the fighting area have shown that the Bolsheviks are now 30 miles from the capital.

LAUNCH COUNTER ATTACK

Warsaw, Aug. 11. The Poles have launched a counter-offensive with bayonets in the region of Pultusk.

The Russians have been striving to break the Polish defense line. Pultusk is 31 miles north of Warsaw.

Paris, Aug. 12. Replies to the French dispatch from Warsaw represent the military situation as greatly improved, following the reinforcement of the Northern Polish army in conformity with the advice of General Weygand, of the French mission.

tion Proposes Conversions of Bonds

Washington, Aug. 12. Quoting Senator W. G. Harding's assertion that "this government should make its Liberty and Victory bonds paid in purchasing them," the Republican Publicity association proposes conversion of the securities into serial bonds as a means of bringing them to par.

There are probably 15,000,000 bondholders in the country today and to their Senator Harding's statement brings encouragement that their securities will be enhanced in value created by the government restoring the day's purchase through depreciation," says the association. "The candidate implies that if elected he will do his utmost to bring about this change in the government."

By returning all of the Liberty issues into a single serial bond issue bearing interest at the rate of 5-1/2 per cent, the market price would probably go to par, the interest rate would be increased from 3 to 5 per cent the entire amount of the bonds would be retired by June 15, 1947, the latest date of any Liberty issue, and the whole transaction would cost the government no more than adherence to the present sinking fund method.

Warsaw, Aug. 12.—Leon Trotsky, Russian Bolshevik minister of war, has arrived at Halystok, just behind the Soviet front and has set up headquarters there according to news from the other side of the battle line.

Benson When She Is Improved

RESTING WELL, REPORT

The coroner's inquest into the Benson case, which was held yesterday afternoon, was continued until the testimony of Mrs. Benson who is in St. Alexius hospital suffering from two bullet wounds, can be given to the jury.

Mrs. Benson was reported as resting well early this afternoon. There still is danger of blood poisoning, or that the one bullet which is lodged in her head may cause her to take a serious turn for the worse. Physicians, however, are hopeful of her recovery.

The testimony was taken in the undertaking parlors of the Perry Undertaking company and apparently confirmed the judgment of police officials that Benson attempted to take the life of his wife and then killed himself.

Witnesses who appeared before the jury were: August Walz, Gus Solberg, Mrs. Hess Murphy, Ole Iverson, Sheriff Welch, and Dr. G. R. Lipp.

Statement Volunteered
Some informal remarks were made concerning the information which Mrs. Benson gave to the officials in the hospital yesterday. The testimony as given by witnesses was substantially the same as given in the Tribune yesterday, except that the inquest, presided over by Coroner Beer, elaborated on the family arrangement of Mrs. Benson.

Officials at the inquest volunteered the statement to relatives and it was included in the records that Mrs. Benson had spoken very kindly of her relatives in the hospital and felt closely her family ties. The expression was divulged that Mrs. Benson's course of action in her family relations was dictated by an effort to preserve harmony in her own household. The statements were volunteered in justice to the wounded woman.

View Remains
Coroner Beer led the jury into a rear room of the undertaking establishment and showed the members the teeth which had been knocked out by a bullet and showed them the bullet. The jury viewed the remains.

The jury was shown pictures of the room in which the tragedy took place. It was said finger prints on the sheet of the bed also had been taken, but were not presented. The revolver of 32 calibre with three empty cartridges and two bullets was displayed. Finger prints on the gun were not taken. It had been picked up and handled.

Company Files Petition

Washington, Aug. 12. Permission to increase express receipts to absorb the wage award of the railway labor board, estimated at $43,890,805, was asked from the Interstate Commerce commission today by the American Railway Express company.

The express company also asked authority to increase by 20 percent its rates on milk and cream to meet the increase granted the railroads of the same commodities.

In its petition the express company stated that the increase in operating expenses resulting from the labor cost increase would make an estimated yearly deficit of $753,500.

This deficit, the company said, would be covered by the government by guarantee up to September 1 but after that date it would require increased rates.

HIS BANK IS CLOSED

Bank Commissioner Says Entire Capital of Bank Is Wiped Out

Boston, Aug. 12.—Charles Ponzi today surrendered to the United States marshal. The warrant for his arrest charged him with using the mails to defraud.

District Attorney Gallagher said that Ponzi had surrendered because he felt himself unable to carry out promises for the redemption of his notes tomorrow.

Bank Commissioner Allen announced this afternoon that the capital of the Hanover Trust company had been completely wiped out. The bank was closed by the commissioner yesterday. Ponzi had been a director up to yesterday.

Creditors have filed petitions in the federal courts asking for the appointment of a receiver for Ponzi.

Admits Prison Record
The bubble of Ponzi, who claimed to have made millions of dollars in deals in foreign exchange in a few months ago, began to burst when he was accused of being an ex-convict, and last night he issued a statement admitting this.

Attorney Allen stated today that the liabilities of Charles Ponzi would run into the millions.

Following this statement, Ponzi issued the following statement: "I had made arrangements with the district attorney to meet my creditors today and pay my liabilities with cash; however, with the closing of the Hanover Trust Co. and the tying up of my other funds I find myself unable to do so. I have notified my attorneys and will ask them to defend me."

Federal auditors stated today that Ponzi's liabilities would run upwards of seven million dollars. His assets amount to about four millions.

Trust Company Closed

While he was making this statement, the Hanover Trust company, in which Ponzi was a director and a shareholder and through which he had done a large checking business, was closed by order of Bank Commissioner Jos. C. Allen. Ponzi at the same time announced his resignation from the bank's directorate.

Commissioner Allen said that he had taken action because his examinations had found that the bank had made loans which "were excessive beyond the legal limit" and "many loans that are of either bad or very doubtful value."

Bank Denies Charges
The executive committee of the Hanover Trust company, in a statement, said the committee believed that there were few poor loans on the books and that there was no reason to believe that the bank would not continue to meet its obligations and that it had a cash reserve of large checks on the amount the law requires. William S. McNary, treasurer of the bank, said that Ponzi did not owe the bank a cent, that any bank in the country would have been glad of his account, and that Ponzi had paid out $5,000,000 through the bank.

Ponzi's confession followed the publication of newspaper stories of the career of "Charles Ponzi" in Montreal. Confronted with these stories, Ponzi confessed with his attorneys and then gave to newspaper men a lengthy statement in which he admitted that he and Ponzi were the same man, that he had served months in prison in Montreal for forgery, and that subsequently he had served two years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for smuggling Italians into this country.

Suffered for Other's Crime

He asserted that his sentence for forgery resulted from his assuming the blame for a crime committed by a banker in Montreal, by whom he had been employed and who had fled to Mexico.

"I am not trying to pose as a hero," he added.

As to the smuggling incident, Ponzi declared that he did not smuggle Italians into this country.

"Within 10 days of my release (from the Montreal prison)," he said, "I was asked to escort five Italians into the United States. I did not smuggle them in. I crossed the border on the train openly and was placed immediately under arrest."

Ponzi, in a later statement, reiterated previous assertions that he was solvent and could pay all notes outstanding against him as a result of his operation of the Securities Exchange company. It was the large business done by this company, which offered to pay 50 per cent interest in 90 days on all loans and which in fact redeemed many notes at that interest in 45 days, that resulted in the investigation now in progress by federal and state authorities. Ponzi claimed that through his easy business in various European countries he was able not only to pay the large interest rate to investors but in addition, to make huge profits for himself.

PUSH BARBERRY WAR, ENEMY OF SPRING WHEAT

Two Hundred and Fifty Bushes Found in North Dakota in July

EXPERTS MAKE REPORTS

Two hundred fifty-two barberry bushes were discovered in North Dakota in July. George Mayoue, who is in charge of the barberry eradication, reports that one hundred fifty-three of these bushes were in the country and ninety-nine in town.

Mr. Mayoue is in charge of the barberry eradication work for the government, and has eight field men at work. They found these bushes in Walsh, Pierce, Grand Forks, Traill and Steele counties, which are the only counties that they have worked in so far this year.

It has been a surprise to a great many people that so many bushes have been found in some counties. People were sure that there was not a barberry bush in the country and well informed people at that. All the bushes found were heavily infested with rust. Which will help account for the heavy rust infection in the North Dakota fields. The rust is also very bad in Minnesota and Wisconsin and in other spring wheat states where they have found barberry bushes.

Dr. Stakeman of the University of Minnesota, who is, perhaps, the best posted man on rust in the United States, stated a few years ago that if the barberries were not eradicated in the spring wheat section, wheat growing would cease to be profitable in less than twenty years.

It is hard to understand how the barberry happened to be planted as long ago as 110 farmers in France noticed that wheat growing near barberries was rusted badly, and in some sections they had laws against growing barberries. In the Scandinavian countries the same observations were made and in Denmark, after they dug out all the barberries they have had no rust. Some of the Eastern states had laws against the planting of barberries in colonial times.

Professor Bolley of the North Dakota Agricultural college made a considerable study of rust in Indiana and after coming to North Dakota continued these studies and over 20 years ago gave out warnings against the danger from the barberries, but little interest seemed to be taken in it. When the war came on, Professor Bolley interested the Canadian government as well as the government at Washington, in the danger of the barberry bushes in causing rust, so that eradication measures were undertaken and they are still being carried on in some states but not on a large enough scale.

Mr. Porter of the North Dakota Agricultural college reports that in Minnesota at the experiment station, where they have been trying out a number of rust-resistant wheats, they have found that some varieties of rust are so virulent this year that they have attacked even the rust-resistant varieties with the exception of one, a wheat from India which is no good for bread-making purposes.

Mr. Statesman of Minnesota has found in his experimental work, that some wheats are resistant to some varieties of rust but that they may not be resistant to other varieties of rust. So there seems to be little hope of the development of a rust-resistant variety of wheat, and the

After being caught he was grilling constantly for five days and nights. He finally promised to send an "ultimatum" to his associates to return him.

Only solution for keeping the spring wheat crop is the eradication of the barberry bush.

If but a small fraction of the moon that is lost from rust each year was devoted to the eradication of the barberries, they could be taken out in a comparatively short time. So the question that will have to be decided is, whether we shall have

PRICE FIXING CONSIDERED BY WHEAT GROWERS

National Organizations Called to Meet at Columbus, O., for Action

FEAURES OF THE PLAN

Washington, Aug. 7. — National farmers' organizations at a conference at Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 1, 2 and 3, will determine whether the wheat growers of the nation will make a "frank and open attempt to form a price fixing monopoly."

"There has been injected into the proposed co-operative movement to bring the producer and consumer closer together, a question so contrary to the interests of the farmer as to make it impossible that farmers must decide at once to face the issue." This is according to Charles A. Lyman, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organizations.

The Columbus meeting, according to all indications, will result in a showdown between the radical and conservative farm organizations. The Columbus meeting also likely will determine whether the farmers will enter into a hard and fast agreement with the American Federation of Labor.

Essentials of Plan

The essential features of the proposed price fixing plan include:

First—A national marketing company organized on a nonstock, non-profit basis so as not to conflict with the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law. This will be formed after the nine principal wheat growing states have each been organized with at least 51 per cent of the growers signed up under a five-year contract to deliver all of their wheat.

Second—In case of overproduction in any year, it will be necessary to store the surplus and perhaps cut the acreage the following year.

Third—The interests of the public are to be protected by including on the board of directors with full voting powers, representatives of the departments of agriculture and the federal trade commission.

Lyman says that sentiment expressed at a recent farmers' meeting indicates that the farmers themselves want "monopolistic control."

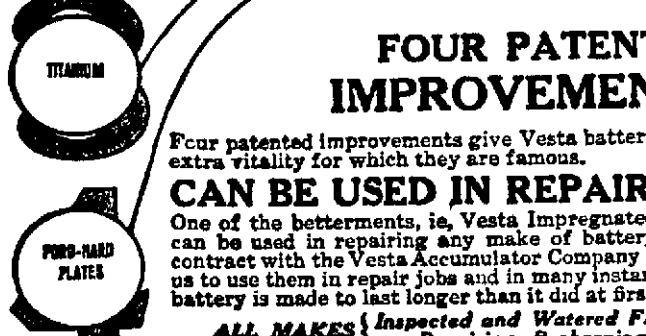

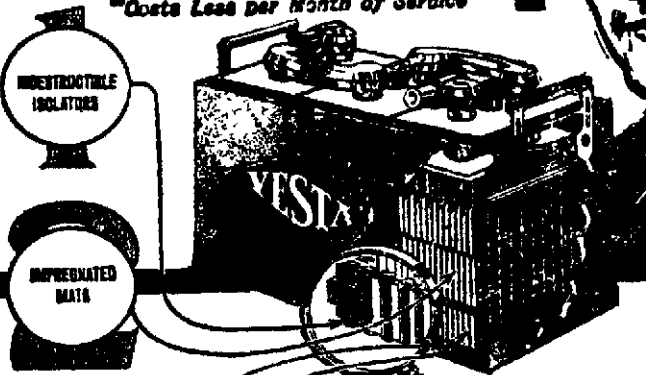

Battle—No Air Castles

Secretary Lyman in writing of the Columbus meeting builds no air castles for the farmers. He warns of probable dangers ahead when he writes:

"Assuming that it is right for the farmers to form themselves into large monopolistic price fixing combinations, and assuming that the wheat growers will be willing to form their five-year pooling arrangements, that the business can be properly financed, etc., let us determine the probable attitude that the consumers of the country will take. Can we make them believe that a price-fixing monopoly of wheat by farmers is desirable? That is the fly in the ointment."

What's done as much as anything else to fill up the movie houses

I LOOK at the crowds that step out of their cars in front of the movies every summer evening.

The movie managers would be renting half of their theatres for store space, if it weren't for the automobile.

It is typical of Americans that they took to the automobile as a matter of course—just as they have to the movies and to every other great invention of the last half century.

And the same thing has happened everytime. Taking things as they come is a fine way to foster waste and extravagance.

As regards tires, the comeback is about due. People are pretty near through paying for something that isn't there when they look for it.

What a man pays for in a tire is quality—not a limited number of miles or the privilege of getting a rebate in case the miles don't come up to the limit.

U. S. Tires are guaranteed as to quality—with no limitation of mileage.

And that holds just as good for the small car tire as for the biggest U. S. Tire we've got. There's only one standard of quality with U. S.—and the size of the car has nothing whatever to do with it.

We represent U. S. Tires in this town. You'll find it worth while to talk to us before you buy any more tires.

TROUBLES WITH BINDER AND CAR CAUSE SUICIDE

Grafton, N. D., Aug. 11.—Lewis Wilk, a prosperous farmer six miles west of this city, ended his life by swallowing poison while driving home from Park River, where he had gone to buy repairs for his binder which had been giving him considerable trouble.

Early in the forenoon Mr. Wilk's binder broke down after causing annoyance all during the morning. The grain was ripe and the man was in a hurry. Putting in his horses he attempted to start his car in order to go to town for repairs. The car refused to run and the farmer worked himself into a passion in attempting to start it.

It is then said that he hitched up a horse to a buggy and drove ten miles to Park River for the necessary repairs. He purchased his repairs, and secured a quantity of poison at a drug store.

It is evident that someone rode part of the way home with Wilk, getting about a mile from the Wilk home. In all probability the man swallowed the poison as soon as left alone.

Rev. Jorgenson of Grand Forks happened to be passing along the road and found the farmer dying. He was taken to his home but never regained consciousness.

Cole of Findlay, his nearest opponent, early this morning when complete unofficial returns from two-thirds of the state's 6,000 precincts in yesterday's state-wide primary were registered.

Congressman Roscoe C. McCulloch of Canton was third, with 56,391 votes less than Davis.

An almost equal number of precincts gave former Governor Frank B. Willis of Delaware a lead of nearly 30,000 votes over Walter F. Brown of Toledo, his nearest competitor for the Republican nomination for United States senator.

Judge W. R. Wamamaker of Akron was running third with 58,374 less votes than Willis.

For the Democratic nomination for United States senator tabulated reports from two-thirds of the state showed W. A. Lullian of Cincinnati leading Judge A. F. O'Neil of Akron by only 2,078 votes.

PONZI A PIKER BESIDE LATEST FIRMS STARTED

He Will Enter Field Again,
However, With a New York
Brokerage Firm

MANY HAVE WORKED IT

BY JAMES MENLE.
New York, Aug. 12.—This city is about to become the center of get-rich-quick exploits in foreign exchange that will leave Ponzi far in the rear.

A new company to enter the field claims to have made 400 per cent in one week upon a preliminary venture of $5,000. This is at the rate of 20,000 per cent a year.

Don't take the next train to New York, however. The company has now announced that it has obtained $500,000 from a wealthy investor and needs no more capital.

New System.
It will meet sharp competition anyway, as Ponzi and new associates of his will probably start operations here in a few days. But they will work on a new system.

R. I. Johns, vice president of the Commonwealth Trading and Security Co., 25 East 43rd St., who yesterday attended a conference in Boston with Ponzi, said the latter had offered his company a "proposal" which is under serious consideration.

No Deposits.
But if business is opened here, indication are that it will be the public will not be asked to deposit money. Instead, it will be invited to buy stock in the company. This will completely change the character of the operations.

The new concern to enter the foreign exchange field is Montgomery, Macdonald & Co., Inc., 1482 Broadway, which began in baffling style by sending out alluring circulars to 4,000 clients, promising them 30 per cent profit in 60 days, to be made in foreign exchange operations.

But A. H. Montgomery, of the corporation, has now announced that no money would be taken from the public, as a wealthy investor has promised to advance $500,000 and in return is to receive profits on a "50-50" basis.

"At no time did we intend to accept any money through the mails," said Montgomery. "Now that we have half a million in sight we don't need any more, and that amply explains our new attitude."

Many Doing It.
"I have reason to believe that various persons are making an untold amount of money in a quiet way through foreign exchange operations. Several times the millions Ponzi named has been made. Every point of contact we came across in our preliminary operations showed signs of wear."

"We could get plenty of money from the public if we wanted to take it. We have been besieged by clients who wanted to invest amounts from $1,000 to $50,000."

SLACKER LIST WILL DIVULGE 173,911 NAMES

War Department Plans Soon to Post the List—Men May Save Faces

Washington, Aug. 12.—The roll of war slackers is soon to be posted by the War Department. It will contain the name of every American eligible under the draft who evaded the call. There are 173,911 names now on the list.

The department today issued the following appeal:

"The War Department is most anxious not to place upon any man who served his country honorably the humiliation of having his name appear as a slacker, and for that reason is seeking the widest publicity of the list."

POLES BLOCKING BRIDGES

Warsaw, Poland.—How the Poles have wrecked bridges leading to Warsaw from the east in the effort to stem the westward rush of the Bolshevik armies, is shown by this photograph. The railroad tracks have been ripped up and the bridge-end blockaded by logs and excavations. Polish soldiers are on guard.

HONOR ACCORDED RETURNED BODY OF GEN. GORGAS

New York, Aug. 12.—Impressive ceremony marked the return today of the body of Major-General William Gorgas, former surgeon-general of the United States, who died in London last month.

Borne back to home shores on the United States transport Pocahontas, the casket was met at Hoboken by a guard of honor from the 13th Infantry, lowered to the pier and carried through a lane of army welfare workers.

Capt. Richard H. Gorgas, the general's youngest brother, stepped forward and draped over the coffin an American flag. That ended the ceremony.

The casket then was taken on a ferry to New York and placed in a special room in the Pennsylvania station to lie there in state until the departure of the train to Washington.

AIRPLANE MAIL LETTER BROUGHT TO THE TRIBUNE

The Tribune is in receipt of a letter mailed "via airplane post" at Chicago, Ill., Aug. 10, the letter reaching the city by the Northern Pacific from Minneapolis, after an airplane delivered the first aerial mail from Chicago to the Twin Cities.

The letter reached Bismarck only a day earlier than it would have if it had been mailed by the Northern Pacific. It was addressed to the Tribune by a man in Minneapolis, who, postmaster at Minneapolis, writes in the letter. The letter reached the city yesterday.

"Save the letter," is his injunction. "Someday it may be a valuable historical document."

Daily aerial mail service will be instituted between Chicago and the Twin Cities.

FRENCH CHEER GERMAN AIRSHIP

Paris, Aug. 12.—Zeppelin L-7, which was recently turned over to the French by Germany, flew over Paris on its way from Strasbourg to the Mediterranean service station. Traffic in the streets was at a standstill for a time, and the people cheered, remembering German air raids on this city.

The Moscow fire of 300 years ago is the "world's record." In it 200,000 persons perished.

Withdrawal to Canadian Ports Will Only Cost Them More in Freight Rates

LOSE THROUGH R. R. RATES

Merchant Marine Act Gives Board Power to Invoke Retaliatory Measures

BY HARRY B. HUNT.
Washington, Aug. 12.—Foreign vessel lines which have withdrawn or are threatening to withdraw from United States Pacific coast ports to Vancouver or other Canadian ports because of the preferential export rates for American vessels provided by the new Merchant Marine act, will be jumping from the frying pan into the fire, according to Admiral William S. Benson, chairman of the United States Shipping Board.

For any export shipments from the United States that may be routed via Vancouver or other Canadian ports, for transportation by such vessels, will not only be subject to the discriminating rates on our railways just as much as though sent to Frisco, Seattle or Tacoma, but will also have to pay the additional charges involved by the longer haul over Canadian roads to reach the Dominion ports and the suspension of through rates on the American haul.

Attempt Will Fail.

"To any person who makes a study of the provisions of the act," Benson says, "in connection with the authority vested in the Interstate Commerce Commission, it will be apparent that attempts by foreign carriers to carry out their threats to divert movements from our Pacific ports must fail.

"The transportation act of 1920 establishes that transportation subject to the Interstate Commerce act is that which takes place within the United States. The Merchant Marine act refers to no port of the United States, but only to transportation which is subject to the Interstate Commerce act.

"Section 28 of the Merchant Marine act, therefore, applies to all transportation which takes place within the United States of persons or property moving to or from a foreign port or a port in possession of the United States, whether such movement is directed through an American port or by rail through Canada for export at a Canadian port.

Rates Will Be High.

"If foreign carriers transfer their vessel operations to Vancouver, for instance as threatened, and the section were enforced with regard to Far East ports, neither through rates nor export preferential rail rates could then be applied for merchandise moving through Vancouver, unless it were handled from that port by American vessels.

"Such merchandise, moving in foreign ships, would be required to pay the full local rail charges between the point of origin or destination and the point where the lines of the rail carrier crossed the Canadian border.

"This differential, in itself, plus the Canadian rail rate, would be a greater handicap against foreign steamers than would the domestic rate to a Pacific coast American port.

The Merchant Marine act, as construed by Benson, merely places in the Shipping Board authority to invoke retaliatory measures and to meet foreign discriminations when such are employed against the United States.

MINISTER AND EDITOR PASSES
AWAY AT WILTON

Rev. Robert Howie Was Pastor of Congregational Church and Editor of Regan Advance

Rev. Robert Howie, pastor of the Congregational church of Regan, editor of the Regan Advance and postmaster for the village of Regan, passed away at the family residence Friday, after an illness covering several years.

Mr. Howie was a sufferer from tuberculosis, and had been bedfast for the past two months; although he continued to direct his affairs, dictating letters and writing articles almost to the last.

He was always of a genial and optimistic frame of mind and although a great sufferer from physical weakness, never divulged his feelings to others. He was an untiring worker and consecrated pastor, living a life of devotion to his God and the people to whom he ministered.

He was beloved by all who knew him and his demise will be a great loss to the community which he served so faithfully and well.

The funeral took place Tuesday morning in the church at Regan where he was pastor since Jan. 2, 1918. The services were in charge of Rev. Stickney, State Superintendent of the Congregational church, Rev. Dickey and Rev. Mirauge.

Rev. Howie was a native of Scotland and had been a resident of North Dakota since 1916 Wilton News.

CARS TOPPLED BY DENVER MOB

Street Cars Turned Over.—When the Denver Tramway attempted to run cars during the recent car strike, a mob promptly attacked the non-union motormen and conductors, drove them to cover and turned the cars over. This picture was taken in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, in front of the Immaculate Conception Church. Four cars were toppled at this place, while their crews took refuge in the church.

"FOLLOW GREEN LINE" DEVICE
AID TO SHIPS ENTERING HARBOR

Vessels Properly Equipped May Follow Line in Safety.

Paris, Aug. 12.—Lines for the fall as sponsored by Agnes, are generally longer, interpreted with a low placed waist line. The corsage is shaped in one with the girdle or finished with crush girdle in contrast.

Straight lines appear in the tailcoats, with medium length jackets and plain skirts. The jackets are finished with high fur-lined collars in fabric or in leather. Some have plaited side sections.

High collars appear also in the day dresses, with corresponding long sleeves. Some of these show the introduction of narrow panels, while skirts are of uneven length.

Afternoon Contrast.

A contrast is registered in the afternoon frocks, which, while collars are high, have sleeves of only half length. Evening gowns are draped in long lines, showing the low waist line, with girdles arranged at the hips. They are built with décolletage contrasting at front and back and tiny sleeves.

A straight, wearable silhouette is presented by Charlotte, with collars high and frequently of fur. Sleeves are of length, while skirts are kept short and made in one with the bodice, which is slightly bloused, especially at the back.

Embroideries are a big feature showing many new treatments and introduced lavishly for all over decoration. Upholstery tassels appear in new trimming effects.

Rich Sources Influence.

Brandt's models for the fall show the influence of various rich sources, namely the Egyptian, the Persian and the renaissance.

The dresses show slightly longer skirts, with silhouette that is straight in line and supple, with a very low flared waist line.

The day dresses are simple and made with high collars and bell sleeves.

Some plaited effects are included, sleeves are wide in the afternoon frocks also. Neck lines are open.

For evening a fairly low décolletage is endorsed. Corsages are long and snugly fitting, above skirts that have floating panels of ribbon. The materials include velvet, laces and metal laces, as well as many pailletted fabrics.

The wraps are developed in cape style, many of them of superb furs.

COUNTY AGENT RETURNS FROM A FIELD TRIP

G. W. Gustafson returned today from a field trip through the northern part of the county, near Regan, where he has been investigating the crops, particularly Kubanka wheat, as compared to Red Durham, Kahla, Arnautka varieties.

"The Red Durham or Dó and Kubanka show the most rust resistance," he says. "Several fields of Arnautka were badly cut by rust."

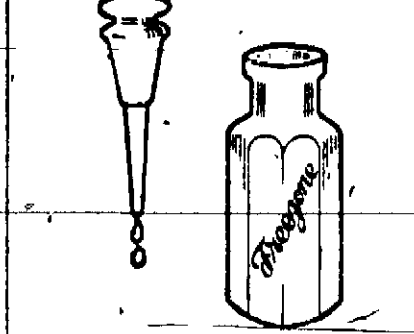

"There was a real soaking rain in the section near Regan Tuesday."

Some forms of this disease have been found to come from tiny germs in the blood, which set up their colony in the muscles, or joints and begin to multiply by the million. You can easily understand, therefore, that the only intelligent method of treating such cases is through the blood.

S.S.S. is such a thorough blood purifier and cleanser that it can be relied upon to search out and eliminate them from the system, and this is why it is such an excellent remedy for Rheumatism.

FLAXLINUM KEYBOARD

Keeps the House Warm in Winter—Cool in Summer—Saves 1-3 of Coal Bill

STUCCO is a splendid finish—getting more popular every year, but it requires adequate insulation against cold and heat.

In Flaxlinum Keyboard the insulation is an integral part of the stucco base. Keyboard is built up of one-half inch Flaxlinum, high-grade, asphalt-saturated, waterproof paper, and No. 1 white pine beveled lath.

It makes a strong base, proof against disintegration. It can be applied on the sheathing or direct to the studding. Applied direct to the studs it gives you, through savings in material and labor, the most economical house you can build.

Tests on this type of construction prove that it makes an exceptionally rigid house. Keyboard has been used in this way in hundreds of houses built by the Government in its housing projects.

And with Flaxlinum Keyboard you get all the comfort and economy that goes with Flaxlinum.

Comfort the year round—
a warm house in winter
—a cool house in summer—with coal bills cut from 30 to 40 per cent.

A layer of Flaxlinum one-half inch thick is equivalent in heat and cold resistance to thirty thicknesses of building paper, or four inches of solid back plaster.

Don't overlook insulating the roof, for the greatest heat loss is through the roof; and in, summer the roof offers the greatest exposure to the sun. The roof should, therefore, have the heaviest insulation. We recommend three-quarters or one-inch Flaxlinum for this use.

For the side walls in sided houses, Flaxlinum comes flanged to fit between the studdings.

Flaxlinum products are sold by leading building material dealers everywhere. They are specified by architects and endorsed by contractors. If you do not know the name of a Flaxlinum dealer in your vicinity, write to us.

Free samples and booklets on request. In writing, please state the kind of building you are interested in.

SALVATION ARMY GIVES COLONELS GREAT FAREWELL

Commander of Northwest District Says "Goodbye" to Local Corps

The Bismarck corps of the Salvation Army held farewell services last evening at their hall for Col. and Mrs. S. Marshall, of Minneapolis. The colonels have been in charge of the Northern Province, comprising North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin, for the last 11 years and have made many friends in this section.

The farewell services here were under the charge of Captain V. J. Hufman, commander of the local corps, and contained a large number of musical numbers. Solos were rendered by Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Johnson, and Marie Stebbins.

Appropriate speeches of farewell were made by various members of the corps, in which mention was made of the part which the colonels have had in building up the great organization of the Salvation Army, and especially its growth in the Northwest under their direction.

A large number of Salvationists attended the meeting and expressed their regret over the departure of the Army's leader.

HOW TO WEAR BOTH HIGH AND LOW HEELED SHOES WITHOUT DISCOMFORT

No Need to Suffer Pains in the Feet When You Change From Your Sport to Dancing Shoes

BY BARBARA BURKE,
Editor of "Beauty Culture"

To be comfortably and appropriately shod for all occasions is something that requires careful thought.

If there is one thing more than anything else that produces fallen arches and aching feet, it is improperly shaped and heeled shoes.

There are many who have the erroneous idea that they must wear extremely high heels or they will not look smart. But oh, how foolish!

Have you ever seen a woman walking with an extremely high-heeled shoe that looked as if she really suffered with each step that tried, worn-out expression that comes over the countenance, aging one more in a day than hard work in a year?

Fashion a State of Mind

The wearing of extremely high heels is all a matter of fashion, and fashion is often a state of mind. The sensible girl is one who studies comfort and health first. There is not the slightest reason why comfort should be sacrificed for style, for nothing really looks as smart as the foot that has full muscular play.

To be entirely heelless is also a mistake, for it throws the weight of the body too much on the spine and produces a gait that is very unattractive. The smart, well-dressed woman of today wears heels even with her outdoor gown. With a heel that is not abnormally high and wide enough to balance the weight of the body without any undue strain. Saddle heels are also recommended for the bedroom, as they give the instep perfect freedom and the foot has a chance to exercise.

Sport Shoes

For sport wear apart from being comfortably clad, be sure that the feet are appropriately shod. High lace boots, with flat heels, are unquestionably the correct wear for such occasions. For mountain climbing, hiking and other outdoor sports, a shoe with broad, flat rubber heels and extension soles, shoes that lace so as to properly support the ankle will insure comfort as well as style. A low-cut shoe is not recommended for long hikes, mountain climbing, etc., as the ankle does not get sufficient support, and is apt to turn, sometimes resulting in a painful sprain or fatigue.

An excellent custom enjoyed by the English girl is to change heavy shoes for house slippers while indoors, but by no means think it is economy to wear out discarded evening slippers for household duties. A soft slipper, that fastens across the ankle so that it is not always rubbing, one with a fairly broad heel, should be provided for indoor wear.

Dress and Evening Shoes

For evening wear, or dress occasions, one may, with comfort, wear a high-heeled slipper for a few hours without injuring the foot, but even then it is well to be sure that they do not throw the weight out of balance. A great deal depends upon the way they are made, some of them being slender in the center and broadening at the base, which presents a very attractive effect and at the same time insures comfort.

It is a great mistake to wear the same pair of shoes entirely through out the day and evening. It takes but a few seconds to change. In hot weather, particularly, change the shoes often. You will feel much cooler, more rested and better able to stand the strain of extreme heat.

While not in use, keep your shoes on a shelf. They will retain their shape better, last longer and fit better.

Always wear heels, even with your bouclair slippers.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE LEVER
Mayor Hylan of New York tried to bar a newspaper reporter from meetings of a municipal board, because that reporter's newspaper had criticized the mayor. Other reporters were not barred. The mayor sought thus to intimidate the press; to compel it to forego criticism of himself.

Justice Fawcett of the supreme court overruled the mayor. While doing so he delivered this opinion:

"The press is the lever that moves the world as no other earthly power could move it. It should not be hampered while in the lawful pursuit of gathering news, or interfered with while honestly disseminating really important information for its readers."

Those judges who vainly try to bind and gag the American press might do well to read and remember Justice Fawcett's opinion.

HOPE
Hope is the strongest force in the world today. Probably it always was so.

It is not love.
It is not ambition.
It is not pride.
It is just plain, downright hope, and nothing more.

The rich man hopes for health, happiness and fame. The poor one for wealth, health, happiness and fame. They all hope for love to complete their happiness. But they only hope for all this and, as long as this hope is alive, they stand a chance of gaining what they want.

When hope leaves them, they are lost, possibly lost.

Ever see these hope-less men and women? Not hopeless, but hope-less; those whose hope for better things has fled and left them dull and sluggish and cowardly.

The world, too, hopes for better things. That is why people are willing to sacrifice their lives—on the hope that by so doing they are saving their country from ruin. If they had no hope whatsoever that their sacrifice would mean anything, how long do you think men would go to war?

It all revolves around hope.

DIVIDENDS
Dividend, "a distribution of profit on shares." Not always. Not even half the time. If that was all, how poor so many would be! As it is, how rich so many are!

The babe, asleep on its mother's breast—dividends, surely. The smiling child, peering into its father's eyes with all the confidence in the world—more dividends. Romping kids, playing in the town streets or the country fields—somebody's dividends. Boys and girls the world over—dividends that put old Six Per Cent to shame 365 days a year.

The bride on her wedding day—more dividends for father and mother. The son, when he succeeds in the big struggle, wins a promotion, is chosen to high office—dividends again for pa and ma.

Children are assets in the eyes of their parents, at least, and they declare a dividend with every smile, with every flash of their eyes, with every kindly act.

Children are not too good to be true, but certainly are true enough to be good. Big families are never bankrupt. They are, as a matter of fact, richer than Croesus. And Croesus was old man Moneybags himself.

DROPS "SOVIET RUSSIA"
Bertrand Russell, an Englishman who, because of his conscientious objections to killing and to a war, was sent to jail. He was, as socialists would say, "The Debs of England."

Then he became a communist and, like many in America, made a fad of "Soviet Russia" and refused to believe anything against it. Russell finally went to Russia to revel in bolshevism and commune with Lenin. He is back from his trip and in an article in the radical Nation he says:

"I think if I had met Lenin without knowing who he was I should not have guessed that he was a great man; he struck me as too opinionated and narrowly unorthodox. His strength comes, I imagine, from his honest courage and unwavering faith—religious faith in the Marxian gospel. He has as little love of liberty as the Christians who suffered under Diocletian and retaliated when they acquired power. Perhaps love of liberty is incompatible with whole-hearted belief in a panacea for all human ills. If so, I cannot but rejoice in the skeptical temper of the Western world.

"I went to Russia believing myself a communist; but contact with those who have no doubts has intensified a thousandfold my own doubts, not only of communism, but in every creed so firmly held that for its sake men are willing to inflict widespread misery.

"Widespread misery? There is nothing a communist will not do to put over his theory, even to the murder by the sword or starvation of half the population of the earth.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

PRESIDENT DESCHANEL'S HEALTH

Although it was announced immediately after the train accident of the French president that he had suffered no serious consequences and would be quite himself after a few days, the weeks have gone by without any definite word as to when he can resume his full functions. Politicians and newspapers are gossiping about the possibility of his resignation. And while all are careful, at least in public, to express the wish that this step will not be necessary, it sometimes appears that they "protest too much" on this score.

The Journal Des Debats, though "earnestly hoping" for M. Deschanel's recovery, declares that the very nature of the presidency "admits no interim," and suggests that unless M. Deschanel is quickly restored to health he must be superseded.

The Intransigeant, however, declares that gossip about the president's condition is promoted by "certain intrigues—always the same ones," and that a few weeks will suffice to restore the chief of state to full vigor.

While there are striking similarities between the situation of M. Deschanel and that of President Wilson, it must not be overlooked that, whereas Mr. Wilson was elected by popular vote, the French president is chosen by the two houses of parliament sitting together. Necessarily, therefore, the president in France must feel controlled to a certain degree by parliamentary opinion, and if it appeared that a majority of the legislators were opposed to his continuing in office he would be practically compelled to resign. If in no other way, his resignation could be forced by a refusal of the chamber to vote confidence to any ministry constituted by him.—Havas News Bureau.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S DISCOVERY

Franklin D. Roosevelt has made a discovery, and when the committee came to notify him of his nomination for vice-president on the democratic ticket yesterday, he gave the world the benefit thereof.

He has discovered that "the war was won by the republicans as well as by the democrats," that it was brought to a conclusion "by a glorious common effort." Therefore it seems to him quite wrong that anyone "in the heat of political rivalry should seek to manufacture political advantage out of a nationally conducted struggle."

It is to be hoped that the echoes of Mr. Roosevelt's glowing periods reach and penetrate the White House, even though a consciousness of their essential truth should now be acquired by its present tenant much too late to be of service to the country.

Mr. Wilson's appeal for the return of a democratic congress at the close of a war that had been won by republicans as well as democrats is still fresh in memory. So, too, is the refusal of the people to give him that mandate for the making of peace according to his own ideas.

Yet Mr. Wilson, with that refusal ringing in his ears, sailed away to Europe without a single republican statesman among his advisers, without making a single advance toward consultation with his constitutional partner in treaty-making, the United States senate.

He gave heed to no protests against the sort of a peace he was making, conferred with no leaders of the opposing party, though he sat at the conference table with prime ministers who stood at the head of coalition governments at home.

Despite his own demand for "open covenants openly arrived at," he strove to keep utterly secret the covenant he was making for his own country, which had just declared by popular vote its lack of confidence in him.

And when he came back with the covenant he had made, he demanded and to this day continues to demand that it be ratified without one single reservation that shall alter its essential meaning.

Governor Cox, nominated by his party to succeed him, promises to carry out all the promises Mr. Wilson has made and to bring about the sacrifice of American nationality on the altar of internationalism.

And faithful Mr. Roosevelt, praising his ticket-mate as a statesman and stigmatizing his opponent as "the errand boy of politicians," talks airily of continuing the era of bipartisan good feeling which enabled us to win the war! He wants that era to continue—if only it can be arranged to perpetuate the Wilson autocracy by the election of a man pledged to all its policies and promises!—Minneapolis Tribune.

HEALTH ADVICE
BY UNCLE SAM, M. D.
Health Questions Will Be Answered if Sent to Information Bureau, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.
Preventing Arterio-Sclerosis
Here are some of the things that are easily avoidable if you want to take care of your arteries.
Lead poisoning is one of the common causes of arterio-sclerosis. For sops handling lead (painters are frequent victims) should be very careful to have clean hands when they eat and they should avoid all possible ways of getting any of the lead on paint in their food and drink. They should brush their teeth after each meal.
Syphilis is the worst and most certain cause of arterio-sclerosis. This can only be surely avoided by leading a clean, chaste moral life. If a person is so unfortunate as to have acquired syphilis, he must at once apply for treatment and be sure to stick to the treatment as long as his doctor wants him to. It is a disease that generally requires active treatment for several years, and that requires watching for the remainder of life.
Alcohol may not be a direct cause of arterio-sclerosis, but is surely very often an indirect cause. Thus the person who drinks liquor is more likely to be poisoned by lead than the one who never touches it. The person who drinks is also more likely to get syphilis, for various reasons. Then, too, it must be borne in mind that alcohol has a damaging effect on the stomach and liver, producing gastritis and cirrhosis. In this way the food is not properly digested. Part of it is turned into poison when it gets into the intestine, and this poison enters the blood and causes damage to the arteries. This cause of arterio-sclerosis is a very powerful one. The safest plan is to leave alcohol entirely alone.
There are two other causes of arterio-sclerosis, but the above are the most important avoidable causes, and it is because they are avoidable that we particularly discuss them.

CROP SUMMARY
Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—Cool weather prevailed in the southern and hot weather in the northern states but the temperature averaged about normal over most of the principal crop states with a fair amount of sunshine. Moisture was sufficient over most of the lower Great Plains and from the Ohio River southward but rain is badly needed in many central and northwestern states. Corn badly needs rain over most of MINN., western and southern Iowa, eastern Missouri, south-central Kansas and parts of Oklahoma, Ohio, and Indiana and from Wisconsin eastward. The condition of corn is good to very good where there have been recent heavy rains.
The weather was very favorable for haying, harvesting and threshing and work made good progress. The quality and yield of spring wheat in North Dakota is very variable. There was considerable deterioration during ripening due to rust, drought and high temperature. The yield in Minnesota will be below the average and about average in South Dakota.
Pasture, rangeland and truck need rain in most central and western states but stock continues in good condition. Sugar cane and beets are doing well generally.
Lating contests are common among the villages of Alaska.
One of the largest British engineering firms has transferred its huge munition works into a locomotive factory.

EARTH NOT ALONE
Many Universes Besides Our Own in Space.
Recent Discoveries Have Greatly Expanded Mankind's Knowledge of Astronomy—Now We Know the "Sun Do Move."

The high priests of Babylonia and Egypt, 3000 years and more ago, had a considerable knowledge of astronomy; but, leaving out of question the few thus learned in science, creation to the ancients was a three-story affair, or rather two stories and a cellar, the latter being the abode of the dead, while on the second floor, ornamentally bespangled with stars, dwelt the gods.

Earth, of course, was flat. The sun passed across the heavens once in every 24 hours, and, going under, appeared again in the east next morning. There was also the moon, which had a similar habit; and that was about all there was of the cosmos.

Since then our ideas on the subject have vastly expanded, and now, in view of recent discoveries, they seem destined to expand enormously beyond anything hitherto imagined. We are beginning to grasp the notion of other universes outside of our own—at distances from our own universe well-nigh inconceivable.

Rev. Jasper declared that "the sun do move." He was right. Not only does it revolve on its own axis (as may be plainly seen by the "spots" which travel across its disc), but it is moving in a straight line through space, like a gigantic projectile, at a speed of at least ten miles a second. As it thus moves, the earth and its sister planets, of course, go with it.

Astronomers, in the course of centuries, have actually been able to observe this movement, by the closer gathering of stars in the sun's wake and the widening out of constellations ahead of us—just as might be noticed of trees and houses passed or approached in a railroad train.

All the stars are suns, most of them much bigger than our own solar luminary, and every one of them is traveling at a terrific speed. The so-called Runaway Star (known to astronomers as 1830 Groombridge) is going at a rate of 200 miles a second. What imaginable power could have set all these suns in motion? And why are they all traveling in different directions, apparently? Our own seeming destination is the constellation Lyra.

It is now thought probable that our universe, which we call the Milky Way (we seem to be not far from the center of it) is really a vast spiral in form, and that this spiral is revolving, so to speak, in its own plane. Assuming this to be true, the straight line in which our sun appears to travel is actually a curve.

What has led to this belief is observation of other spirals which are now thought to be distant universes, many of them so far away that light from them, traveling 186,000 miles a second, takes something like 10,000,000 years to reach us. Their form plainly shows that they are revolving.

Everything in the cosmos seems to go round and round. The moon travels around the earth, the earth around the sun; and presumably the sun is following an orbit about some center, whether a giant sun or merely a point in space. Our universe (if the theory above outlined be accepted) is whirling. Probably, as it whirls, it is making a journey of its own about some center, perhaps in concert with other universes.

Space being infinite in extent, it is, when one comes to think of it, absurd for us to imagine that ours is the only universe.

We shall never know. But at least we may claim that our ideas on the subject of creation are expanding.—Kansas City Star.

Women War Workers in Waxworks.
London is collecting in photographs and wax figures a complete record of what women did to help win the war. For the present a part of the record is displayed in the Whitechapel art gallery. There is the woman ship painter, the tanner, the coke quencher, the stoker, the airship maker, the munition worker, the farmerette. There is a picture of a woman operating a 100-kilowatt electric engine, and of another driving an electric crane. Women are shown working in gas works, dressing bricks, spreading tar, steering gauging burner parts, testing meters, wheeling coke, carrying heavy sacks, and working in naphthalene factories, flour mills and sawmills.

Increase in Foreign Mails.
A comparison of United States mails dispatched to foreign countries by steamers for the first nine months of the last two fiscal years shows that 2,500,048 pounds of letters and postcards were dispatched in 1920 and 1,794,822 pounds in 1919, or 32.63 per cent increase. In 1920 there were 17,377,424 pounds of prints dispatched and 16,043,543 pounds in 1919, or 2.56 per cent increase. The dispatch of parcel post amounted to 26,453,743 pounds in 1920 and 12,843,722 pounds in 1919, or an increase of 105.25 per cent.

Fearful Engine of Destruction.

A warship that will combine in itself the surface craft, the airship and the submarine is "no impossible dream of the future," says Sir Fortescue Flannery, president of the British Society of Consulting Marine Engineers. The tendency will naturally be to scout the possibility of a craft combining all these qualities, but Sir Fortescue is a practical man and his opinion is supported by Sir John Fisher, who, when first sea lord of the British admiralty, predicted that such a craft would come in no very distant time and that the nations might then scrap their navies as junk.

The experiences of the recent war show how difficult it is for surface ships to fight airships or submarines and a craft combining the qualities of the two that could seek refuge in either air or water would drive surface ships from the sea.

LAND OF SHOCKS

Tahtiti Should Be Accustomed to Earthquakes.

Average of Two a Day for the Last Two Months Is the Record, According to Dispatches — Society Islands All Volcanic.

Two earthquakes a day has been the average for the last few months in Tahiti, newspaper dispatches state. This rocking island is described by H. W. Smith in a bulletin of the National Geographic Society, as follows: "Tahiti, of the Society Islands, is one of the most important of the French possessions in the Pacific, with steamship connection to San Francisco and New Zealand.

"The Society Islands are of volcanic origin, arising from the low bed of the ocean, which has depths near the islands of 1,500 to 2,000 fathoms, while the highest peak, in the center of the island of Tahiti, reached an altitude of 7,300 feet. On a clear morning the view as the ship approaches the harbor of Papeete is most beautiful, showing deep valleys penetrating from the coast to the mountain peaks of the interior.

"Near Papeete the beautiful Fatoua valley may be visited in an afternoon. For a good part of the way a carriage road leads up the valley, offering changing vistas.

"Why, indeed, should the Tahitian toll? There are great leaves of the wild 'taro' growing by the roadside; the young leaves are delicious boiled, and the curious stranger will find many other new delicacies of the table—the alligator pear, the baked papaya, the Mantia crab, the raw fish, as good as the best oyster, served with Tahitian sauce, and on rare occasions a salad made from the heart of the coconut tree.

"In Tahiti, as well as in most of the South Sea Islands great numbers of coconuts are grown, and after being dried for copra are shipped in large quantities to Europe. We were much interested in the different methods of gathering the nuts in various islands. In Tahiti the natives climb the trees with the help of a strip of green fibrous bark torn off the stem of a hibiscus tree. After knotting the two ends together the climber slips his feet half through the circle, and standing with his legs apart so as to stretch the thing tight ascends the tree in a series of leaps, with a foot on each side of the trunk.

"A practiced climber will thus mount trees of a very considerable height with a celerity and ease which do not suggest the long practice actually required. On making a trial myself I found it difficult to climb even as much as a foot from the ground.

"In its fresh green state the coconut provides a most refreshing drink, but as it grows older the 'milk' hardens and forms the white inner rind with which we are all familiar. This is the celebrated copra and is commonly put to many different uses. In Tahiti it is used for sauces and for coconut oil. One sauce, which was served with fish at a very enjoyable picnic, although compounded of scraped nut and sea water was palatable.

Ready for Gabriel.

A negro doughboy who had hit Paris on a A. W. O. I. and supplied himself generously with the vin sisters mingled with stronger waters, woke suddenly in a still befuddled condition in the great urban cemetery of Pere in Chaise whether his uncertain steps had taken him. To make it worse there was an air raid going on.

The brother looked around him out of half-closed eyes. On one side, stretched long rows of white monuments. Sirens shrilled from the city streets. Dazzling beams of white light stabbed the heavens. There could be but one conclusion.

'DRY' LICENSES EXCEED 57,000

Nearly 16,000 Physicians Have Received Permits to Write Prescriptions.

DRUGGISTS IN BIG NUMBERS

Only 238 Permits for the Manufacture of Intoxicants Have Been Issued, One-fourth of Them Being From California.

Washington. — More than 57,000 druggists, retail and wholesale, and manufacturers of proprietary medicines, flavoring extracts, sirups, etc., have been licensed in the United States and its consular possessions to date, under the national prohibition act, according to statistics just compiled in the office of the prohibition commissioner, John H. Kramer.

The records of the internal revenue bureau also show that nearly 16,000 physicians in the United States, Hawaii and Porto Rico have received permits to write prescriptions calling for the dispensation of intoxicating liquors for medicinal purpose and that additional permits at the rate of 1,000 a month are being issued to physicians.

Tabulation by states of the physicians licensed up to June 25 show that the prohibition director for Massachusetts has issued more than 15 per cent of the number of such permits distributed. New York state has another 15 per cent.

Massachusetts Leads.

The exact figures are: Massachusetts, 2,450; New York, 2,421; Pennsylvania, 1,525; Ohio, 1,450; Maryland, 1,225; Missouri, 1,150; Minnesota, 883. In states such as Illinois, Kansas and Indiana, where state codes will not permit of the use of such permits, no physicians have been licensed by the government so to prescribe.

Porto Rican physicians, apparently, are awake to their opportunities under prohibition, 176 licenses to physicians to prescribe intoxicating liquors having been issued in that territory, or more than have been issued in Mississippi, Arkansas, New Mexico, Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota, West Virginia, Georgia, Florida and Maine combined.

New York state is far in the van in number of retail and wholesale druggists, manufacturers of proprietary medicines, extracts and other products requiring the use of intoxicating liquor as an ingredient. Permits for these dispensers of products containing considerable quantities of intoxicants have been issued to 14,000 in New York state alone, or about 28 per cent of the total in the country.

Pennsylvania ranks second with about 12,800 such permits issued up to June 25. Illinois is third with nearly 3,000. Massachusetts is fourth with about 1,900 and Ohio is less than a hundred behind in fifth place.

More than twice as many permits for the sale alone of liquors have been issued in Pennsylvania as in any other state. There are 602 issued in the Keystone state out of 3,243 for the entire country. These are issued principally to distillers and others, having intoxicating stuff in bond, but some wholesale liquor dealers and possibly some druggists may be found in this class.

Permits for Manufacture.

Only 238 permits for the manufacture of intoxicants have been issued, and more than a fourth, of these, or 64, have gone to the wineries of California. Two permits of this class have been issued to distillers of whisky, both in Pennsylvania, according to enforcement officials.

Thirty-five of the sixty rectifiers' licenses have been granted to firms in New York state.

Ohio's state prohibition director has issued more permits for the transportation of intoxicating liquor than any other, with 350. Kentucky is second with 271 and Pennsylvania third with 109. Massachusetts ranks fourth with 147, California fifth with 140, New York sixth with 129, Connecticut seventh with 112 and Missouri eighth with 69.

All other classes of permits for the use in any way of intoxicating liquor, in its importation or exportation, for manufacture or use of intoxicating elixir for conversion into vinegar, and for the sale or purchase of alcoholic preparations, sirups and beverages of more than half of 1 per cent alcoholic contents are issued direct from the prohibition commissioner's office, as also are permits to operate distilling plants and rectification establishments.

Permits "H" for the use of intoxicating liquors "in the manufacture of medicinal preparations, extracts, sirups, etc." have been issued up to the number of 42,808 and permits "I" for the "use and sale" of such liquors have been issued up to the number of 11,370. These two classes of permits take in both wholesalers and retailers of intoxicants—always with the qualification "for medicinal purposes"—and because of the confusion resulting from these similar classifications, "H" and "I" permits now are being consolidated in many instances so that druggists, for instance, may not only dispense whisky, etc., on prescription, but may also use it in concocting medicinal preparations of more than one half of 1 per cent alcoholic content.

At the present rate of withdrawal from bond it will take only five years for the available supply of whisky in the United States to be consumed.

NEW SCORES IN GOLF PLAY ARE DAY'S FEATURE

Jack Hutchinson, Western Open Champion, Scores 33 in First Nine Holes

OTHERS PLAYING WELL

Toledo, O., Aug. 12.—More records were set yesterday at the national golf championship. Jack Hutchinson of Chicago, western open champion, scoring 33 on the first nine holes of the Inverness links and 69 for the 18 holes, two strokes better than the previous competitive score and also two strokes under par for the 6,669 yard links. Scoring was so good that it required 137 strokes or better to qualify for the 71-hole championship playing beginning tomorrow. Usually 35 holes in 160 has afforded entry to the contest, 157 being a new low figure.

No prominent tournament player was eliminated, however, and most of the amateur contenders remained in competition by comfortable margins. A number of new names crept into the coveted list.

Hutchinson's 69, with yesterday's 72, allowed his total of 141 to lead the field by several strokes. Jack Burke of St. Paul finished second with 75-71-146, and Gene Sarazen of Fort Worth, with 74-72-146, followed. Frank Macdonald of Winnipeg, who finished fourth with 148, led the foreign invaders, as Harry Vardon of England required 75-78-152, and Edward Ray 80-75-155, while Nichol Thompson of Hamilton, Ont., with 153 failed to qualify.

Aside from the four leaders only three got under 150. Leo Diegel, who lead the scoring yesterday with 71, tying with Louis Tietler of Boston, Action of Chicago and William McElborn of Tulsa at 149.

Chick Evans of Chicago, former champion, led the amateurs with 150, scoring 74 today, while Bobby Jones, southern champion, with 76 today, had 151, two strokes better than Vardon, his partner, who took 78 today.

James Barnes of St. Louis cut five strokes off his Tuesday score, today, giving him 153, while Harry Hampton of Richmond added nine strokes to his 72 of yesterday for the same total. J. Douglas Edgar, Atlanta, who broke all records for low scores last year in winning the Canadian open title, also took 78 today, but qualified easily by virtue of a fine 73 yesterday.

The worst reversal was shown by Rudolph Knepper, amateur of Sioux City, who took 44-40-84, whereas he led the amateurs the day before with 72. His total of 156 was only one worse than that of Walter Hagen, title holder, who scored 77 today.

WOMEN RULE IN TEXAS TOWN; NO BASEBALL THERE

Jewett, Texas, Aug. 12.—In Jewett, Texas, where the women rule not only the home but also the city government, there will be no more Sunday baseball.

Every city officer in Jewett, with the exception of the chief of police, is a woman, each being selected last April when the husbands saying they were disgusted with office dared the women to oppose them. The women did with the result that they won out in the voting.

The congregation of the Methodist church recently passed unanimously a resolution against Sunday baseball. It implored the women who were ruling the municipality to legislate against such "desecration of the Sabbath." All of the members of the commission including the mayor, also a woman, are members of the church. Heard the resolution and said there would be no more Sunday baseball.

TONY GETS IN LABOR DAY BOUT

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Tony Metchior, Chicago heavyweight boxer, has been signed to appear in one of the ex-made by man, the good work of one "Ping" Bodie, the Italian clown, must not be forgotten. It is Ping who keeps the some-times sullen Ruth laughing. It is Ping who keeps the Yankees laughing. And, don't you forget it, it is ALSO Ping who sometimes whangs out a home run and saves the day for the Yankees.

PING BODIE HELPS WIN GAMES BY KEEPING YANKS LAUGHING

While all the world rightly applauds Babe Ruth on his course to breaking all baseball records ever, it is to be held Labor Day at Benton Harbor in connection with the Jack Dempsey-Billy Miske battle for the world's heavyweight championship.

More power to you, Ping, and may you live to consume many more plates of your beloved spaghetti.

PLAYERS POOL BORTON CHARGE

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 12.—Charges involving 27 baseball players who were with the Pacific Coast baseball league last year were made here today by Babe Borton, former Vernon first baseman, who was released yesterday "for the good of baseball."

Borton charged that 20 members of the Vernon club of the Pacific coast baseball league each contributed $100 to be distributed among players of certain other clubs to "assist" Vernon in winning the pennant.

VALLEY CITY'S TEAM BANQUETED AS SEASON ENDS

Valley City, N. D., Aug. 12.—Valley City's baseball team has disbanded after making a good record during the season. The team won 38 games, lost 11 and tied in two contests.

The team was banqueted by citizens of the city as a finale to the season.

The last games played were with Hankinson, Valley City winning the first game Saturday, 8 to 7, and Hankinson taking the Sunday contest, 5 to 5. Hankinson also has a good record for the season, having won 17 games, lost 5 and tied one.

RUTH'S Detroit, Aug. 12.—Babe Ruth's favorite baseball bat, used in compiling his home run record this season, arrived at police headquarters from Detroit. The bat, now on exhibition, will be donated to the person buying the largest number of tickets for the Police field day.

Accompanying the cudgel was a statement from Ruth, attesting that the bat was used by him in hitting circuit clouts.

RUSS IN STATE TENNIS CONTEST

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Harper held St. Louis in check for seven innings while Boston mixed timely hitting with Rothorn's wildness and errors by Gerber and Smith to defeat St. Louis five to three.

DAN O'LEARY IS ATHLETE AT 80

Dan O'Leary is a wonderful athlete. He is just on the sunny side of 80 years and still able to walk out of 50 miles with the best of athletes and boxers all his life and there was a time when he could sign his name for $200,000 or more, but like most sporting men he did not know enough about financial matters to hold on to any of it for a rainy day. Dan has arranged to walk a three-mile race at Athletic park, Milwaukee, August 9, in connection with a baseball game. How many boxers or other athletes are there who would perform likewise at the age of 80?
